Following the submission of the draft guidance and instructions back to the Director of Defense CIRIS Activities, the Defense CIRIS working group will review them and they will be submitted to DASDI for approval and forwarded to the Chairman of the Interagency CIRIS Committee. Upon approval by the Interagency CIRIS Committee they will be submitted to DASDI and disseminated to the Defense intelligence components involved.

Although the preparation of the draft Defense CIRIS guidance and instruction manual has been delayed because of the involvement of CIRIS personnel in the processing of CIRIS-70 inputs, it is expected that the current task on CIRIS-71 will be completed by 1 July.

We all recognize the need to press on as rapidly as possible in order to incorporate the changes in the CIRIS-71 guidance and instructions.
